SALOONMEN APPEAR IN COURT

Another batch of Gary saloonkeepers have appeared in the Lake superior court to secure writs of mandate to compel the city controller to issue saloon licenses.

They appeared before Judge Virgil S. Reiter this morning and the court made the same order as in the cases which were first brought before Judge Johannes Kopke.

The relators in these cases were G. E. Young, by Ora Wildermuth, and Joseph Fesko, by Sheehan & Lydick. The rest of the cases were as fellows and were filed by Clarence Bretsch: Theodore George, George Chelovich, Frank Golombas, Jacob Smith, Joseph J. Pehicka, Leon Petrak, Frank McBride, John Cullen, Valentine Pitaraki and Felix Sadowski.

Gary Case Before Reiter.

The case of Frank McCrae vs. William Lohman, Thomas Grant and George Blocki in which an effort is being made to enjoin them from levying on a piece of property near the Clark road in Gary is up before Judge Virgil S. Reiter in the Lake Superior court today.

The property is known as the Jacob Schunbleu or Ralph G. Keller shack. Charles E. Grenley and Oliver Starr appear for the relators and Milo Bruce for the defendants.

State of Indiana, Lake County, ss: In the Lake Superior Court, Room No. 2. Honorable Lawrence Becker, Judge.

Whereas, the present May term of this court will expire by operation of law on the sixth day of July, 1912, leaving business of the court unfinished, and undisposed of for want of time.

It is therefore ordered that an adjourned term of this court be held commencing on the fifteenth day of July, 1912, for the purpose of transacting and disposing of such business as may be unfinished and undisposed of, and that said adjourned term continue as part of this regular term of this court.

It is further ordered that notice of the holding of said adjourned term be given by publication in the Hammond Daily News and THE LAKE COUNTY TIMES, newspapers of general circulation, printed and published at the city of Hammond, county of Lake, state of Indiana.

LAWRENCE BECKER, Judge.

Mad Dog Scare.

The residents in the vicinity of 735 Hohman street had a mad dog scare yesterday when a savage animal, foaming at the mouth and having all the signs of hydrophobia, attempted to bite several men and children.

Peter Pohlplatz noticed the dog's strange actions and he secured a revolver and killed the animal. Nobody reported of being bitten by the dog.

Lots of Measles.

The most prevalent sickness among the children in Hammond at the present time is measles, there being seven or eight hundred cases in the city at the present time. Most of the cases are on the east and north sides. There is one scarlet fever case in the city.

Big Sale Impends.

Beginning next Monday the Lion store will open its regular semi-annual mill and sale to continue it for a week. These sales are one of the store's most popular features, and are eagerly awaited by thousands of shoppers in and around Hammond.

Lodge Assemblies

A meeting of the members of the Ladies' Society of the B. L. F. and E. took place Wednesday afternoon in the K. of P. Hall in South Hohman street. It was the regular bi-monthly meeting and the members followed their usual business and social program. The names of candidates for membership were received and balloted upon. There will be initiation of candidates at the next regular meeting in two weeks on Wednesday, July 17th. Plans were made for the meeting and it is desired that many members attend. There was a short social session at the close of the business meeting.

The regular bi-monthly meeting of Silver Light Hive L. O. T. M. took place Wednesday evening in the K. of P. Hall in South Hohman street. The usual number of members attended. After the lodge session a short time was spent socially. Refreshments were served during the social hour. In two weeks on Wednesday evening, July 17th the members will meet again and follow their usual business and social program. It is desired that there is a large attendance of the membership.

LAKWOODS PARK

Safeness and saneness characterized the celebration of July 4 at Lakewoods park. The banner crowd of the year thronged the resort and took in the rides and other features, enjoyed the special features and took in the sights. The Lakewoods band played a special patriotic concert, there was special music in the rathskellar and the ballroom was brilliant with a big crowd. The park was decorated from end to end in the national colors and presented a fine sight.
There were picnics in the grove and hundreds of automobiles lined Clark road for blocks during the day and night. There was a display of aerial fireworks from balloons and the day-light exhibition of fireworks was unique. At 10:30 in the evening there was a drawing for the prize: Little Miss Annie Meyers of Effingham, Ill., who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Teresa Burke of Gary, dressed in the national colors, mounted the bandstand and drew the winning ticket from the box.

Resigning Asst. Secretary of Treasury and Chief Whose Ability He Criticizes.

A. PLATT ANDREW

The winning number is 24,928, and there is a nice, bright, new five dollar gold piece at the park for the holder of this number.

Miss Rosa Baranick of South Chicago was a visitor at Lake Woods on the Fourth.

Among the Chicago guests at Lake Woods on the Fourth were: Miss Ellen Dalley, Mrs. Maude Harding and W. R. MacAusland of the Chicago Daily News. These individuals with George V. Bacon of Gary and Will Reed Dunroy of Chicago had a picnic dinner in the grove and a chicken dinner in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Leon De Costa were in the evening party. The members of the party took in the different concessions at the park and enjoyed the day immensely.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Morsbach and their two children of Chicago were at Lake Woods to spend the day yesterday. Mr. Morsbach is the attorney for the Gary Park company.

John W. Powell was made chief of the special police at Lake Woods over the Fourth. Will Baker was another special sworn in, and the city had a couple of officers on the grounds. Good order was kept all day and in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray L. Williams of Chicago and Miss Leon Jacques motored out from Chicago Thursday and were the guests at Lakewoods of Mr. and Mrs. Leon De Costa.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Baranick, Miss Rosa Baranick and Miss Dorothy Kahn of South Chicago were at the park over the Fourth.

Fred Simon of South Chicago visited the park over the Fourth and was impressed into service on the front gate and earned his passage.

"A Night in Japan" will be the offering in the ballroom at Lakewoods next Wednesday night. Manager Seltzer will arrange for numerous special features.

Sunday, July 14, will witness the first big picnic of the season at Lakewoods. From that date on there will be a picnic nearly every Sunday through July and August.

Senator Frank N. Gavitt and party motored over from Whiting Thursday night and took in the sights at the park.

Michigan City had a big contingent at the park on Thursday. There were several big hayrack parties and several automobile parties as well.

Louis Bernstein of Chicago was one of the interested visitors at the park on the Fourth.

Increased car service between Gary and the park yesterday helped to carry the crowds in an expeditious manner. Traffic was very heavy between Hammond and the park, also.

The circle swing did a banner business, as the people seemed to be in a mood to catch the cooling breezes that were engendered by the swift movement of the concession. Mrs. F. A. Stone operated the swing a part of the time.

RETURN FROM VISIT IN EUROPE

H. F. Shoemaker, president of the Western Rain Products company; his father-in-law, Charles Mayer, who is vice president of the company, and H. F. Lindner, treasurer of the company, returned to Hammond on Wednesday evening after an absence of more than two months, during which time they visited in Europe. Although the three gentlemen had visited the land of their birth and spent pleasant days with their relatives, they were very glad to set foot on American soil again.

The travelers made their return trip on the Kronprinzess Cecilia of the German Lloyd line.
"As we steamed into New York harbor, the statue of Liberty looked mighty good to us," said Mr. Lindner this morning. "One of the most pleasing incidents on our trip occurred in the New York harbor, when a motor boat came out to meet us, and from its deck a cornet soloist greeted us with the song 'Home, Sweet Home.'"

Overcome by Heat.

Louis Conger, a plasterer working on the Kaufman & Wolf building, was overcome by the heat this afternoon. Contractor Perry A. Wilson gave the victim attention and the latter was able to get around this evening.

DID THEY TRY TO STEAL HER?

Chief Martin of the Gary police is investigating a story about an attempt on the part of Hammond or South Chicago young men to abduct a Gary girl two days ago, who escaped from their clutches by jumping from an auto going at a high rate of speed. The girl made her successful leap for liberty at Ninth avenue and the work.

Passengers on the car were unable to obtain the girl's name. Today it was learned that she is employed in a store at Eleventh avenue and Adams street, and the police have started an investigation into the case.

CHICAGO PUBLISHER DIES FOLLOWING AUTO ACCIDENT

Three Other Members of Party Badly and Chauffour Fatally Hurt.

Laporte, Ind., July 5.—Albert Leach, a member of the Chicago Publishing house of Kentfield and Leach, was killed in an automobile accident yesterday afternoon between Westville and Valparaiso when the machine in which he was riding with Don J. Maroney, Mrs. Wilson and Miss Murray, all Chicagoans, turned turtle at what is known as the Maloe bridge. Both of Leach's legs were broken and his chest was crushed. Other members of the party were badly bruised.

The party was on the way to Michigan City, and encountering a motorcycle rider whose machine was unmanageable attempted to avoid a collision only to be thrown into the ditch and buried under the car. The chauffeur, a colored man, who was seriously and possibly fatally injured, was taken to a hospital in Valparaiso.

A Good Orpheum Show.

The Orpheum ice-cooled and thoroughly enjoyable put on a new bill last night which played to a record-breaking house. Seven people in the Nappanee school day act gave a 40 minute show after four fine vaudeville acts that was the best ever and the funniest seen in the house for a long time. If it is so hot you can hardly breathe outside drop in the Orpheum and you won't need any fan.

A Quiet Fourth.

Nothing of importance occurred at the Hammond police station over the Fourth, the officers finding everything quiet and exceptionally dull. Not a single arrest was made, which was something unusual at the station on this holiday.

HANKINSON IS TWISTERS AID

Assists Princess Curvereta
Out of Uncomfortable
Position.

If you called up the Orpheum box office shortly after the matinee yesterday afternoon and failed to receive an answer don't think that the ticket selling force was celebrating the glorious 4th or that the Hammond link in the Allard chain had suddenly ceased operations. Manager Hankinson had been called back on the stage to assist Princess Curvereta, one of the main attractions at the Orpheum this week, to untie herself. For ten or fifteen minutes the ticket depot was left unmanned.

Mr. Curvereta is constantly practicing new stunts that the verity of her billing. "Premier woman contortionist of the world," may not be lessened.

After all of the other performers had departed the pretty twisteress betook herself to the center of the deserted stage and commenced to rehearse a new stunt. The trick consisted of wrapping the limbs together, and while thus joined sticking the head, arms and body through. Curvereta got through the first part of the stunt in fine shape, but when she came to untwist herself she found that her muscles had become rigid and she was unable to extricate herself.

Screaming at the top of her voice the young woman summoned Manager Hankinson, who was presiding in the ticket office while the treasurer had gone to supper.

Mr. Hankinson was compelled to tug at the girl's limbs for several minutes before she was released from her perilous position. Beyond a little soreness the young woman declares that she feels no ill effects from the episode. She accomplished her usual tricks last night, but it will be some time before she again attempts the bow-knot trick, which caused her so much agony.
